

Department of medicine of Colombo University in August 1. Because of the better security situation in the country since the arrests of AP and other controversial police leaders, the administration of Prime Minister Narendra Modi is trying to portray the situation as a crisis or emergency. Police are believed to be staging an act in front of the public